

ADDENDUM TO JOURNAL
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Thursday - 6 May 1976

STAT

3. (Unclassified - GLC) ADMINISTRATIVE Called Russ Rourke, White House staff, and discussed with him the various versions of S. Res. 400 and the advantages and disadvantages of each. I told him that we have three main concerns with S. Res. 400: not to proliferate information, to maintain our intelligence budget as a secret budget, and the disclosure of information by the Congress. We agreed that the Cannon substitute for S. Res. 400 was the best alternative of the different versions. I asked Rourke to try to get the Administration to take a position on this legislation before some compromise is cast in concrete.

✓ I also asked Rourke to mention to Jack Marsh, Counsellor to the President, the second deputy legislation. I told him that we want to move forward on this. Rourke said he would make sure that Marsh focused on it.

3. (Unclassified - WPB) LEGISLATION Tim Hardy, White House staff, called concerning the two deputies legislation which had been sent to Jack Marsh, Counsellor to the President. He asked whether it was pending in OMB, and I said the Agency was waiting for White House clearance before forwarding it to OMB for formal coordination. He said that he would work on getting White House approval.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Legislative Counsel

FROM :
Deputy to the DCI for the Intelligence Community

STAT

SUBJECT : Two Deputies Legislation

1. Reference is your memorandum of 19 April, subject as above, and its attachment suggesting statutory language and amendments to the E.O. 11905.

2. I have no comment re the E.O. amendments, but suggest consideration of the two following changes in your redraft of Section 102 (a) of the National Security Act of 1947.

Amend the third sentence, adding the underlined phrase:

"The Director may, to the extent he deems appropriate and without being relieved of his responsibility, delegate to each of the Deputy Directors any of those authorities vested in him by virtue of his position as Director of Central Intelligence and as head of the Central Intelligence Agency and may perform any of his functions or duties or exercise any of his powers through, or with the aid of, such persons in, or organizations of, the Central Intelligence Agency or his Intelligence Community Staff as he may designate."

Amend the final provision (last four lines) as follows:

"Provided, however, that at no time shall more than one of the two Deputy Director positions be occupied simultaneously by a commissioned officer of the armed services, whether in an active or retired status."

3. I consider it important that the Deputy Director, Agency, be a career civilian officer of CIA and that the Deputy Director, Community, be an active duty military officer. Four of the ten DCIs to date have been military officers, and I do not consider that legislation should eliminate a military officer, even though in retired status, from consideration for appointment as DCI.

We are preparing to transmit to OMB the two deputies legislation. This transmittal requires developing a package which includes a sectional analysis, drafts of letters of transmittal to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House, cost analysis, and the covering letter to the Director of OMB. Attached for your review and coordination are drafts of the covering letter to the Director of OMB and a sectional analysis and explanation of the bill. We plan to use substantially the same letter for the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate as we are using to Mr. Lynn. As you may gather from the draft letter, it was thought best to discuss the legislation in general terms rather than get into any detailed discussion of the respective roles of the DCI, IC, and CIA, etc. Please provide us with your comments and suggestions by COB 12 May. Thank you.
